

Key person approach policy

EYFS Statutory Framework 2017

3.27. Each child must be assigned a key person. Their role is to help ensure that every child's care is tailored to meet their individual needs (in accordance with paragraph 1.10), to help the child become familiar with the setting, offer a settled relationship for the child and build a relationship with their parents.

Little Star Nursery has a commitment to the key person approach of childcare. This means that our organisation and deployment of staff is centred on enabling close attachments to be made between individual children, their families and individual staff.

The nursery places the child's needs at the centre of the approach but also recognises the entitlements and expectations for others involved i.e. the families, key staff, buddies and managers.

These are recognised as follows:

The Child

- To have the key person available during settling-in visits and as much as possible during ongoing sessions
- To have a flexible and supported induction period that is sensitive to their individual needs
- To be 'held in mind' by their key person (or other staff members in the Rising/shooting Star team) during their time at nursery
- To have a key person who fosters their sense of belonging within the key group and the nursery as a whole

- To have a key person who really gets to know them and their family and celebrates and facilitates their individual needs, interests and development
- To know what happens when their key person is away, to still feel special to someone and not have their care compromised
- To have the opportunity to make a secure attachment with their key person which will support their security, independence and overall well being

The Family

- To be provided with information and literature about the key person approach and the reasons for its implementation
- To understand the reciprocal relationship between themselves and the key person/buddy and ways in which this is fostered e.g. daily communication, Tapestry observations and their contributions to them, learning summaries and regular nursery/ parent meetings.
- To have their culture, heritage and family values respected and actively represented to develop their own sense of belonging in the nursery
- To be kept continually updated about information regarding their child
- To be informed in advance, when possible, if the key person will be away so that they can prepare their child and to understand what will happen in the key person's absence
- All children under 2 years will have daily sheet completed, giving information of sleep times/ feeding etc.
- If the child's key person is not available at drop off and/ or collection times, then any other relevant information will always be relayed by another member of staff.

The Key Person

- To feel supported by other staff in their key person group, particularly during times of settling-in new children
- To receive on-going support from their senior and manager and to have opportunities to discuss and problem solve the challenges of their role

- To be allocated time to complete paperwork
- To have regular contributions from the parents on the children's interests and learning at home to help inform their planning

The Manager

- To have staff who are motivated and committed to the KPA and willing to attend on-going support and training e.g. key person meetings.
- To receive personal guidance and on-going support from other professionals e.g. KPA manager's network and Early Years Team
- To work in partnership with families and have their support in making the KPA successful

The nursery recognises the challenges involved in ensuring the KPA works as effectively as possible and that it requires a whole team approach to achieve this. Wherever possible the key person and/or other staff members from that Key group (Rising or Shooting Star teams) are available for the child but there may be times when this is not able to happen. During these times ratios will always be maintained and other staff who the child is familiar with will take on the key person role.

The nursery is committed to continually evaluating its KPA practice, managing changes and transitions as sensitively as possible and ensuring each child feels special and has the opportunity to develop an attachment.
